Purpose: Show the luxury and calm of the physical space. Let people feel what it's like before they visit.

- Soft lighting on treatment beds

- Clean, minimal reception area
- Steam, towels, candles — sensory details

Pillar 2: The Treatment

What it is: Service spotlights — what each treatment involves, what it does, who it's for.

Purpose: Educate and intrigue. Make people curious about the experience.

- Close-up of a pedicure in progress (clean, elegant angles)
- Short video of bathing ritual preparation
- Ingredient breakdowns — what's in the products we use

Pillar 3: The Glow

What it is: Client transformations, results, reactions. The 'after' feeling.

Purpose: Social proof. Show that real people leave feeling amazing.

- Soft-focus 'after' photos (with permission)
- "How I feel after my visit" client quotes
- Side-by-side (before/after pedicure results)

Pillar 4: The Voice

What it is: Tips, self-care advice, beauty wisdom, brand philosophy.

Purpose: Build authority and trust. Position Tilz Spa as the expert.

- "3 signs your feet need a medical-grade pedicure"
- "Why your bathing routine matters more than you think"
- Self-care quotes on branded templates

Pillar 5: The Invitation

What it is: Direct calls to book — promotions, availability updates, new service launches.
